Dear Calvin:

25X1A

I have your letter of 6 November concerning the emergency trip of [redacted] and I am sorry that it does not seem possible to justify this expenditure.

25X1A

I assume that some effort will have to be made to collect it from him but I am afraid the government will have a hard time since he has no money whatsoever and, as you know, was receiving such a low salary that he should not have been sent to Europe in the first place.

I hope this incident will result in the formation of a charitable fund within the organization (to which I shall be glad to contribute) which can take care of cases of this kind. In the government organizations which I have been connected in the past such funds have existed.

I shall hope to have a chance to talk over the question of such a fund upon my visit to Washington in December.

Sincerely,

25X1A
